THE SNOWMAN

These delicious dairy recipes are inspired by one of our favorite holiday stories. Remember, always ask an adult to help you when working in the kitchen.

In this story,

Frosty the Snowman comes to life after children place a magical silk hat on his head. The children have a day full of dancing and fun until the warm sun melts Frosty. But don't worry, he'll be back next year!

STRING CHEESE Snowman

Making a string cheese snowman is a fun activity for a cold day, and a yummy snack!

YOU WILL NEED:

- String Cheese (Individually Wrapped)
- Orange and Black Markers
- Ribbon
- Black Card Stock (Cut into the Shape of a Top Hat)

For this fun winter craft, all you need to do is tape the hat to the top of a string cheese, draw a face and buttons onto the string cheese wrapper using markers, and tie ribbon around the middle of the string cheese as a scarf.

Be sure to ask an adult for help cutting out the hats and ribbon!

THE SNOWMAN

Snowman Sundae

Just like in the story, this Frosty the Snowman sundae will melt. Be sure to eat him up quickly before he melts away!

INGREDIENTS:

- Vanilla Ice Cream
- Marshmallow
- Raisins, Chocolate Chips, or Dried Cranberries
- Maraschino Cherry
- Mini Candy Canes

Put a rounded scoop of ice cream in a bowl, and then begin assembling your snowman. Put a marshmallow on top of the ice cream for the snowman's head, and place a cherry on top of that as a hat. Stick two candy canes into the side of the ice cream scoop as arms. Use raisins, chocolate chips, or dried cranberries as buttons down the front of the ice cream. You can even use food coloring to draw a face on the marshmallow.
